

How many media should I monitor?

---

The number of media to be monitored varies depending on the media density in each country. Monitors in countries that have higher media density will code more media than those in lower density countries. Consult the media bands chart under the 'media monitoring' tab on this website to determine how many of each medium should be monitored in your country.